The Addicted Brain

Presented By Louis Cataldie, MD

8am-11am

Addiction is a very complex disease with many factors that can contribute to it. It disrupts and dismembers the most powerful part of the body; the brain. This presentation will bring a pragmatic approach to addiction explaining the influences and development of the addicted brain. Examining how withdrawal symptoms, along with behavioral and emotional tendencies, can show potential brain recovery. The focus will turn to how the brain can be healed and enhanced through medical and clinical treatment.

Dr. Louis Cataldie is a native of Louisiana who received his Medical Degree from LSU Medical School. He has extensive clinical and administrative experience in Addiction Medicine and is a Diplomate of the American Board of Addiction Medicine. Dr. Cataldie has been in the field of addiction medicine for over thirty years. He has his own private practice and serves as Victory's Professional's Program Medical Director.

Stop the World, I Want to Get Off: Promoting Ethics in Increased Insanity

Presented by Marlene Lucas, LCSW, ACSW, BACS

11am-2pm

A three hour seminar addressing the core value standards embraced by professional therapists throughout the profession's history which are the foundation of a clinician's unique purpose and perspective. It will identify current day challenges under which a therapist is called upon to increase due diligence to uphold their professional code and values.

Marlene has over 30 years of experience as a social worker. Now "semi" retired, she's worked in school systems, and inpatient psychiatric hospitals serving as everything from a therapist to administrator. She currently consults with programs and trains professionals.

Sex Addiction and Compulsion

Presented by Eddie Windham, LCSW
2pm-5pm

A presentation that will explore sex addiction and compulsion in its many forms. From understanding pornography addiction through statistics, research, and its effects on a patient, to establishing what traits and characteristics can attribute to it. Attendees will learn about different compulsive sexual behaviors and how the brain of an addict functions.

The addiction cycle and core beliefs of addicts will be broken down as well as equipping clinicians with the ability to work with the partners of addicts.

Eddie started his private practice in 2004. For almost 10 years he has helped those suffering from sex/pornography addiction along with internet and gaming addiction. He facilitates groups for domestic violence offenders and males with sex addiction. Windham is a graduate of McNeese State University and his office is located in Lake Charles.
